

FROM ALPHA TO OMEGA

'Life in all its fullness'

(JOHN 10:10)

Weekly newsletter
Friday 19th January 2024

Dear parents and carers,

We've had a great week here at Emmanuel this week, with a couple of visitors from Camden Learning seeing our school and being thoroughly impressed with the engagement with learning from children all over the school. The heating still continues to be an issue, and we'd like to thank you for your patience and understanding on the matter. Rest assured that the classrooms are warm, as are group rooms, so it's just corridors and the hall that are chilly. We will update you on the boiler situation, but please do speak to me if you have any concerns.

Drama Workshops

Some fantastic drama workshops took place today for Reception, Year 1 and Year 2. It was lovely to see them listening carefully, expressing themselves and working beautifully as a team.

Coming Up

Next week we look forward to Reception's trip to the Natural History Museum, plus Science workshops for Omega classes and Year 5's trip to the Crick Institute. Watch this space for photos!

Sharing Assemblies

Years 1 to 6 will present a sharing assembly this term, with more details to follow about Reception and Nursery. We have chosen Wednesdays this time around, to share out the days that we are celebrating. We very much hope you are able to join us.

- My child has friendship issues
- Raising a resilient child
- My child doesn't want to go to school
- I'm going through a break up and want to support my child
