To the fantastically wonderful IG,

I hope you are keeping well and have had a happy week. Well done for your brilliant efforts with your learning and I hope you enjoyed reading my MyMaths comments! It is fabulous to see so many of you trying your best and persevering by revisiting tasks. Remember that if you are unsure, you can watch the lesson. Again, making good mistakes is how we learn and develop. In addition, you are welcome to try any of the tasks again, perhaps some of your favourites, even if you got a high score the first time.

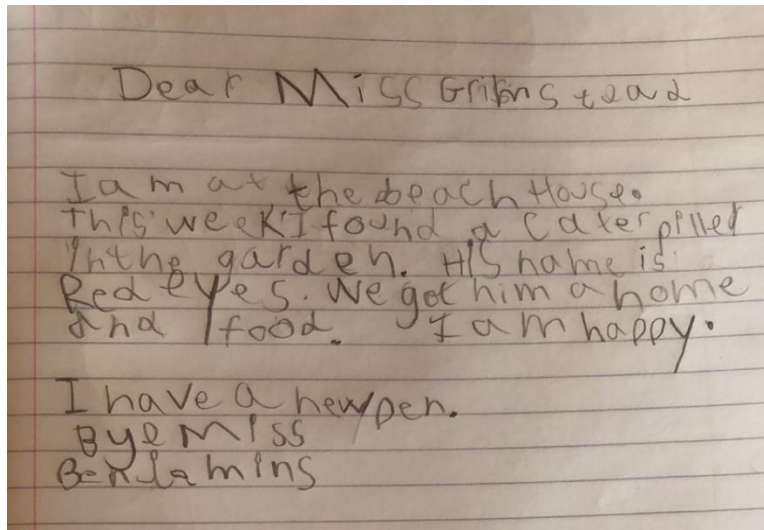

This week Miss Grimstead has had the opportunity to map out our discoveries for next term! We will be learning about lots of new and exciting things after the holidays which I am looking forward to sharing with you. Also this week I have continued my enthusiasm for relearning how to play the piano and practising yoga. In fact, I discovered a fun YouTube channel called Cosmic Kids <https://www.youtube.com/user/CosmicKidsYoga>, which combines adventures and stories with being active!

This week I had wonderful surprises from Benjamin S and Caitlin that I would like to share. They sent me fantastic letters! Thank you and I am sending special elbow bumps to you! Miss Grimstead loves surprises so if you would like to share anything you have been working on then I would love to see it.

This week, Miss Fitzsimmons wrote to your parents and carers about home learning after Easter. Each day, you will need to complete one maths lesson, one literacy lesson and a topic lesson. These lessons will be on our school website and your parents and carers know how to find them. They will look like the lessons you are used to on the interactive whiteboards in class. Read the slides and then complete the activity in your exercise books. Sometimes, the answers will be given as the last slide for you to mark your own work! I know that you'll be honest with your marking!

There is also a page full of music and PE activities for you to do when you have time.

I hope you have enjoyed your home learning over the past two weeks and have a restful Easter holiday. My next newsletter will be on Friday 24th April so look out for that!

Happy Easter!

Miss Grimstead.
